Steaming,
Sunday
December
2nd 2012

December 2012 is an unusual month in that it has five Saturdays, five Sundays and five Mondays, this occurs only once every 824 years! We only need one Sunday, the first Sunday, to hold the final steaming of the year and to welcome children from Barnoldswick Church of England School who have traditionally heralded Christmas with songs and Carols in the afternoon. This year again, they are kindly led by Mrs. Jamieson. This picture from 2011 shows the group performing, alas, Father Christmas has to give his time to others this year that didn't see him last year but sends greetings and promises to come again. Don't miss it!

Doors open at 11.00am.
Engine runs from 1.00 to 4.30pm.
Souvenir shop and cafeteria open from 1.00pm
Free Parking
